

HEROES IN DEATH: THE VON BLUCHER BROTHERS IN THE FALLSCHIRMJAGER, CRETE, MAY 1941

Crete, May 20, 1941. An amazed world watched as the first great airborne invasion in history began. Among the 8,000 German paratroopers taking part in Operation Mercury were three brothers: Wolfgang, Lebrecht, and Hans Joachim von Blcher. This is their story. Born into one of Germany's best-known military and aristocratic families, the von Blcher brothers were Fallschirmjger, among the elite of the German armed forces. Illustrated throughout with family photographs and many other rare illustrations, Heroes in Death recounts the brothers' lives before the war, their training...

Reader's Opinions

This is the heart-breaking story of the 3 Von Blucher brothers who gave their lives on Crete. A very well researched book and a great story bringing these young men back to life. I really enjoyed it and it is always nice to read stories about the young soldiers lives' and to remember those who sacrificed everything, doesn't matter what...
